

The course covers five basic different topics:

First topic tackles the meaning o law, its function and the legal characteristics which distinguish it from others.

Second topic focuses on branches and sub- branches of law, in addition to its sources .

Third topic highlights the judicial system in Jordan: its principles, types of lawsuits, court formations and their characteristics .

Fourth topic is concerned with practical applications of what is known in Jordanian civil law as contracts like: sale and rent contracts.

Fifth topic discusses the major Jordanian laws and systems associated with practical life such as: owners and renters law, personal civil law, labor law, civil service system, Social security, and lawyers syndicate legislation.