

102488 Teaching English as a Foreign Language(2) (3 CHs)P
102483)

This course is continuation of 192487. It deals with the methods of teaching all aspects of English as a foreign language with special emphasis on areas of Difficulty to Arab students. Theory is to be practiced in actual classroom situations. The course also introduces audio-visual aids usable In teaching English, the role of aids in language teaching, the functions of language testing, how to design the different types of tests, and how to evaluate such tests.