

COURSE DESCRIPTION

Department of Service Courses

Safety and First Aid

Course Number: (01101243)

(3 CHs)

- Pathological case: diagnosis, basic skills, knowledge and health problems.
- First aid: necessary procedures, first aid, practicing CPR techniques.
- Safety: safety of patients, protecting patients and providing them with health care.

Course outcomes:

1. To gain knowledge about first aid principles needed to deal with common cases.
2. To know the signs of health problems and the symptoms that are related to the most common diseases.
3. To interpret the first aid priorities at the accident site.
4. To know the skills of first aid in emergency cases.
5. To test various strategies to ensure the safety of patients and protect them from complications in emergency cases, until specialized health care becomes available.
6. To practice basic CPR techniques.